

Creating a Parent Profile

We encourage all junior members (aged 18 or under on 1 September) to have a parental link in ENgage. The parent will then manage the young person's membership using their login, once the accounts have been linked by the young person's club.

Please read on for more information.

1. You can access the ENgage homepage here.
2. First, search for your child's club using Find Club. It is important you do this before creating an account.
3. Once you have selected your child's club, click Create Account (located under the login fields).
4. If your child has had a membership before, please create a record for 1 adult, 0 children (as your child already exists in our database). If your child has never had a membership before, please create a record for 1 adult, 1 child.
5. Once you have registered your details, you'll receive an email stating your ENA ID and a link to set your password. Please be aware that this email may go to your junk folder.
6. If you don't receive this information, please contact membership@englandnetball.co.uk and we will provide you with your ENA ID.
7. If your child has had a membership before, and therefore already exists in our database, and you have created a record for 1 adult, 0 children, once you have successfully created a parent profile, you'll need to let the club know so that they can link you and your child in the system.

Please note, if you have been a member to England Netball before, you will not need to create a new record as you will already be registered in the system. Simply, log in using your existing ENA ID, click on Directory, find your child's club, select Join, and Save.
